

A Guide to England Through a Cat's Eyes

Pat Albeck

*audiobook / ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC

#3270384 in Books William Morrow n Co 1993-10Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 7.25 x 6.75 x .75l,
#File Name: 0688123414122 pages | File size: 76.Mb

Pat Albeck : A Guide to England Through a Cat's Eyes before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Guide to England Through a Cat's Eyes:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Just darling.By Meadow SageI saw this book through the window of one of the last used books stores in our town and, as I love cats and England and books, I just couldn't get it out of my mind. I finally went in and asked the nice lady to fetch it from the bookshelf. It's actually very informative about spots in England I'll probably never get to see in person, described with great charm and detail by the pretty little kitty from the title. I know, it sounds a bit too sweet and silly, but it's not at all (well, not silly anyway). The illustrations are beautiful and the text, as I said before, informative and also witty and insightful. It's just darling and inspired and if you like this sort of thing (and most of us who can read by this time know whether or not we do)you will love this lovely and wonderful little book.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. GREAT LITTLE BOOK!By Lynda CiteraThis book is wonderful for both adults and middle school aged (or older) kids...beautifully illustrated to go along with a clever text. The "lucky enough to travel" cat takes us to London, Chartwell, Kent, Wimbledeon, Cornwall, Suffolk...the list goes on and on. Gardens, stately homes, theatres, pubs, and more...this book is a treasure for those of us besotted with England. A "must read"...and a "must see". ENJOY!Lynda Citera

Delightful paintings and a winning text highlight a tour of England from a feline perspective, journeying through the heart of the land and avoiding tourist spots in favor of almshouses, orchards, and garden in the English countryside.

35,000 first printing.