Reprint edition. Martino Publishing, Mansfield Centre CT. Reprint of the original edition by University of Oklahoma Press, 1976. LIMITED TO 150 COPIES. It is safe to say that there is no more important history of the publications of the Lewis Clark Journalsthan Cutright's classic account. Several of the members of the Expedition published accounts of their explorations. Lewis Clark later published an official account. In this important work, Cutright provides an in depth and scholarly analysis of all these journals, their progression from manuscripts to publications, the various editions of each journal, and the circumstances surrounding publication, as well as fascinating accounts of long lost manuscripts, and extremely rare journals borrowed and never returned. Our edition is strictly limited to 150 hand numbered copies. Published by arrangement with the University of Oklahoma Press.
