COMPRHENSIVE AND CONCISEBy Scott CarpenterEveryone in Orange County should own this book. Shad explains all the details for a serious hiker to find the best trails and features in Orange County, together with technical information about the right USGS Maps, elevation gains and distances of the various hikes. But he does so with a simplicity that makes the novice, like most of us, instantly aware of which hikes would be most appealing. He even adds a simple ranking system to separate the truly challenging treks from the mere walks. If you want to hike in Orange County, this tells you everything you need to know. If you only want to find a small patch of green to stretch your legs, this is still the place.
