Caroline Woodward : Alaska Highway Two-Step: A Travel-Mystery Novel before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Alaska Highway Two-Step: A Travel-Mystery Novel:

"...one of those rare books--a satisfying mystery that has no criminal content whatsoever ... even the most hidebound mystery reader is likely to be delighted by this well-written and intriguing tale." --The Toronto Star "...a worthy successor to her short fiction collection ... Woodward interweaves several intriguing narrative threads into this intense first-person tale of [Mercy's] actual and mental journeys to discover family, past and present, that will give her life wholeness...enhancing this narrative is the delightfully witty voice of Mercy Brown." --Canadian Literature When Mercy Brown, a reluctant psychic and freelance journalist, discovers her late Aunt Ginger's diaries, packed with early Canadian dance history and a painful past, she realizes that she has two mysteries to sort out. Mercy Brown and her dog Sadie embark on a writing assignment up the Alaska Highway. A BC bestseller, Alaska Highway Two-Step was selected as one of The Globe Mail's Top 100 Books. Caroline Woodward's sharp wit and unerring ability to create warm, believable characters make this a delightful novel of the North.

About the Author Caroline Woodward is the author of Light Years: Memoir of a Modern Lighthouse Keeper (Harbour Publishing, 2015), Penny Loves Wade, Wade Loves Penny (Oolichan, 2010), Disturbing the Peace (Polestar, 1990), and two children's books.
