Heidi Sarna, Matt Hannafin : Frommer's Cruises and Ports of Call (Frommer's Complete Guides) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Frommer's Cruises and Ports of Call (Frommer's Complete Guides):

typically purchase. And even though by the time we purchase the book, we usually have made our selection on cruise line as well as itinerary, we enjoy reading about the other cruise lines and other ports of call in order to plan future trips. We get a LOT of good information on the ports we WILL be visiting. The books are very well organized and provide lots of information for those first time cruisers as well as seasoned veterans. The information on the ports of call provide "must see" destinations. But you also get information on things not to waste your time on. Although the books provide information on places to eat and drink, I wish they would provide more. A great travel resource!

By CustomerFor anyone wondering what a cruise is like or what type of cruise they would like to go on, this book is really a great overview of the different choices that can be made. Before taking a cruise you can see just where they go and what they have to offer. Great reading for someone who just wants to "dream" of going someplace some day....fun reading.

It has helped us to choose what to see when the cruise ship docks and how to get taxis or sign up for shore trips now. Thank you for fast shipping and we will use your service again. csl Completely revised, Frommer's Cruises Ports of Call features photos of all the major ship classes that sail out of North American homeports. You'll also get up-to-the-minute coverage of all the lines servicing North America and the Caribbean, as well as in-depth ship coverage so you can choose the ship that's best for you. Our authors, longtime cruisers, hit all the major ports of call on the North American and Caribbean cruise routes, from Oahu and Vancouver to New York and St. Thomas. Their candid reviews will help you find the choices that suit your tastes and budget.

From the Back Cover Experience the best a place has to offer on the cruise that's right for you. Frommer's. Your trip begins with us. Detailed coverage of the hottest trends in cruising trips departing from all major U.S. ports to the Caribbean, Alaska, Hawaii, Bermuda, Mexico, and Canada Exact prices, including cruise rack rates and the average discounted rates for every ship that we review, so you can plan the perfect trip no matter what your budget Extensive descriptions of all the major cruise ships sailing in North America, from cabin amenities and ship facilities to shore excursions and recreational activities Comprehensive ship ratings that grade the essential elements of a cruise experience (dining, activities, children's programs, entertainment, service, overall enjoyment, and overall value) from "poor" to "outstanding" Special coverage of popular river cruise routes in the United States, including the Mississippi River, California's Wine Country, the Hudson River Valley, and the Columbia and Snake Rivers About the Author Matt Hannafin is a freelance writer, editor, and musician based physically in Portland, Oregon, and spiritually in his hometown of New York, New York. Author of Frommer's Day by Day Vancouver Whistler, he also writes the daily Cruise Blog and biweekly travel features for Frommers.com and freelances for various newspapers, magazines, and websites. He's written on topics ranging from speed traps and genealogical travel to minimalist art and the 2008/09 world financial crisis; provided writing and editing services for congressional candidates, global consulting firms, and UN agencies; and performed concerts of Persian classical music, Ukrainian and Sephardic folk music, and contemporary improvisation for audiences of 2 to 2,000. He's married to do-gooder lawyer and pianist Rebecca, is the father of ridiculously handsome and talented 2-year-old Malcolm, is best friends with an Irish terrier named Rooster, and is also good buds with mother-and-son felines Musetta and Puccini. Heidi Sarna is not a cat person, but loves dogs and people, especially her adorable twin sons and cute husband. She's a freelance writer who has sailed the oceans blue for more than a decade in ships of all sizes all over the world. Author of Frommer's Day by Day Singapore, and a contributor to several other guidebooks, she also writes regular travel columns for Frommers.com and Porthole magazine. She's written for countless magazines, newspapers, and websites on travel and cruising, but also covers diverse topics from relationships to charities, furniture, nutrition, and interesting people. Go figure.
