Roger Bruton : Planes, Trains, Automobiles and a Ferry: My solo, round-the-world, bucket-list trip before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Planes, Trains, Automobiles and a Ferry: My solo, round-the-world, bucket-list trip:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I thoroughly enjoyed reading this bookBy Owen-PintoI thoroughly enjoyed reading this book, which took me around the world in two months... A trip I'd like to take... Travelling by train all the way across Northern Europe, Russia, Mongolia to China: guess I've always dreamt of it. The changes between cultures and lifestyles are smoother and a better way to immerse yourself in the country you are visiting, away from the tourist routes. I also liked the concept of carrying on thru the US by car after flying to Japan and Hawaii. Roger's lively day-by-day account of his travels is straight to the point and he makes it look easy. You just want to pack up your bag and follow in his footsteps, planning longer stays in some places (Shanghai) and shorter ones in others (Las Vegas). A trip added to my own bucket list: it's good when the planning has been done for you :-). Beautiful pictures can be seen on the Facebook page... A great account of how to travel solo. Merci Roger! A bientot pour d'autres aventures...

A solo, 45,000 km two month journey around the world, the highlights of which were Southern France to Shanghai by train and a 8,000 km road trip across the USA

About the Author Roger Bruton lives in SW France and is co-owner of a small three-star hotel. Travel is his main leisure interest. Prior to this phase of his life, he was in the computer industry for over 40 years. He has also lived in Ireland and South Africa.
