Robert Spencer Barnett : Princeton University and Neighboring Institutions: An Architectural Tour (The Campus Guide) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Princeton University and Neighboring Institutions: An Architectural Tour (The Campus Guide):

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. OutstandingBy Galen K. JohnsonThis volume serves doubly as an exhaustive guide to the whole town for the newcomer and a collection of wonderful nostalgia for the alumnus. I particularly appreciate that the volume covers the seminary, whose historical influence is also very significant. I am glad that I have this volume of photos and stories.

Since the first edition of Princeton University: The Campus Guide in 1999, the investment of more than two billion dollars of capital in more than forty-eight projects has dramatically altered the face of one of America's most beautiful campuses. Contemporary buildings by Allan Greenberg, Schwartz/Silver, Pei Cobb Freed, Tod Williams Billie Tsien, Hopkins Associates, Gehry Partners, and Rafael Violy complement major connective landscapes by Beyer Blinder Belle, Michael Von Valkenburgh Associates, Robert Zion, and others. This edition introduces three new campus walks showcasing this new work and the Princeton University Museum of Art, with a tour of the collection by the director; campus art featuring fortyfive pieces by Alexander Calder, Henry Moore, Richard Serra, and others; and the Natural Sciences Neighborhood, a major university initiative over the past fifteen years. The Guide is also expanded to include tours of other nearby institutions, including the Institute for Advanced Study and the Princeton Theological Seminary. A preface by President Shirley M. Tilghman (20012013) and an introduction by university architect Ron McCoy set the stage for the Princeton campus in the twenty-first century.

"It's a great resource for a local resident, or anyone who wants to learn more about the historic University campus."About the AuthorRobert Spencer Barnett, AIA, was a director with Gruen Associates in Los Angeles and the Hillier Group in Princeton, New Jersey, and Princeton University's Vice Provost for University Space Planning; Assistant Director of the Office of Physical Planning; and Program Manager in the Office of Design and Construction.
