With the vastness of natural beauty, it has always been a question to a traveller while visiting certain location, where to begin and end. Lake Tahoe, which is the largest freshwater alpine lake, deepest in US after Crater and sixth largest by volume, located along the boarder between California and Nevada is certainly one amongst those scenic places. A section of Lake Tahoes immenseness, along the southwest part touching California state, meeting the juncture of HWY 89 and HWY 50 would be South Lake Tahoe. This book would be featuring major attractions along US 89 50 showcasing immenseness on southwest tip of the lake.

About the Author Pawash Priyank is professionally a software engineer.
